Business Process consulting

We consulted to a large technology vendor in establishing business process, integrating these into the ERP system as well as in establishing marketing campaigns and developing business documents and brochures. The engagement included:

1. Process mapping and establishment
2. Managing integration to the ERP system
3. Documentation development including marketing materials, web site development, brochure and white paper development.
4. Full accreditation of the process developed
5. Training of Sales personnel

Unique Approach

Our engagement was unique based on the broadness of the solution that was provided, and enabled the company to reduce business expense on consulting, while gaining real business benefit and process.

All processes was also fully ISO 9001 accredited as part of the engagement leading to substantial competitive advantage
